A Collection of Cardinal-Centric Fun

Hello!

Thank you for purchasing the Pulsar in Public portfolio. This collection of images shows the cardinal as he goes about his day, getting into his usual shenanigans right in view of everyone, from the park, to the street corner. I hope you enjoy the show as much as I did putting it on!

Also because this portfolio is being sold, please don't distribute it either to friends or the internet at large.

I'd also like to extend my thanks to those who lent their characters to appear in this portfolio. The characters are copyright their respective owners. All characters were used with permission.
