Man into Male Brown Bear Transformation Story | Unwilling |

Mike tried to plead the zookeeper, but the staff of the zoo was merciless when it came to their rules. Mike shouldn't have thrown that apple into the bear enclosure and he knew it, but he wanted to try his luck nonetheless.

The man was thrown into a dark room and was told to relax. Mike sighed and hanged his head low, thinking that they would let him out soon. Mike hoped that this wouldn't escalate into more problems.

After a while of self-reflection Mike decided to get up to find out where he was specifically. That's when the man realised a corridor leading to a bright place. Without thinking of it twice Mike started walking in that direction.

He stopped when he entered what appeared to be a huge forest, but something about it was off. Mike barely noticed that the place was surrounded by huge camouflaged concrete walls. Mike exclaimed in pain as something sharp pierced his left hip.

To the man's utter surprise he realised that he had an injection dart sticking out of his ass. The man quickly pulled it out and his heart started beating faster thanks to his increasing horror mostly. "Ow! It stings... Let me out, I'm sorry about that apple, please!" – Mike called out to the many cameras watching him from the above.

Mike was starting to feel dizzy as he realised that his belly was starting to grow bigger. It was illusionary effect however as in reality the man's entire body was growing bigger and the fat tissue was redistributing into other spots than formerly.

Mike gasped as his nose started swelling bigger, turning moist and pitch black. The man frowned, worried about what was happening to him and how and his lips started to become limp and animalistic as they darkened to a shade of black. The man gritted his teeth as they started to push out into bigger and deadlier shapes of sharp carnivorous pebbles.

“Oh G-God... What’s happening to me?!” – Mike asked in horror as he felt his ears grow warmer and then begin to turn rounder and more ursine. With an awful series of snaps Mike’s face started pushing out into an intimidating muzzle. The man groaned in discomfort and stared in confusion as the forming protrusion began to take more space in his field of view.

“P-pleeeeeease! I don’t want to be an animal, I can’t become one!” – Mike yelled in fear as his body continued to grow bigger and made his clothes painfully tight around his growing bulk. Mike gasped as the button of his jeans popped off and the zipper became undone revealing a peculiar sight.

Despite the odds Mike’s manhood was beginning to demand attention as it started to stiffen shamefully. Mike shook his inhuman head in disbelief and humiliation as his penis started to fatten up and elongate. The flesh started darkening and the head of the cock was flattening at the tip and the shaft was growing wider at the middle to provide Mike with an ursine equipment.

Mike let out a moan and looked up as his hands began to cup his balls and stroke his bear-shaft. The man started growling as his testicles swelled bigger and his shaft began to expulse his human seed.

Mike forgot about his worries for a moment, but that ended shortly as the man realised that his fingernails were growing longer and turning sharper. Mike gasped as he saw his hands grow bigger and turn clumsier. The shape distorted until the digits became completely useless and his hands turned fully into paws with protective pads growing underneath them.

The man looked down just in time to see his feet burst out of his shoes. Mike lost balance and fell over onto all fours as his feet started turning into wide and resilient hind paws of a bear. The toes grew longer and the flesh began to sizzle to form pillows of numb flesh.

“W-wait! No, ah! It’s happeninghr thoo fasht. Oh fuck, m-mhry voice! Nghr-aghr!” – Mike started freaking out as he felt his neck grow thicker with muscles. The bones in it were altering too as they readjusted his head to be more fit on a mostly quadrupedal body.

Mike fell over onto his side and rolled over onto his back, then he started ripping his constrictive shirt to shreds, later doing the same with what remained of his jeans. Even Mike got caught off guard with how strong he had gotten and how sharp were his claws. He gulped and realised that he wasn’t able to form words anymore and his tongue only lolled out comically out of his ursine muzzle.

Mike closed his eyes as his torso started crunching and popping madly. The man felt his shoulder blades turn wider as the movement of his arms became more restricted. Mike struggled to breathe as his chest started inflating and his ribcage began barrelling out to make his silhouette more imposing.

The man slowly regained his breath, just to realise that his butt was growing larger, along with his entire lower body to give it the iconic shape of a bear's rear. Mike cringed as his furless buttocks started to part from each other as his hips turned more feral and lost their human shape.

The most bizarre sensation originated from the Mike's tailbone. It was practically crawling under the skin, only to start putting pressure on it. The flesh was starting to stretch as the bones grew longer and started to multiply to form a stubby tail. Mike looked down at his paws and hoped that this would end soon, as he didn't want to remain a bear forever.

Mike let out a growl of surprise as he felt his limp penis move upwards into a more feral position. It was being hugged up to the lower stomach by a forming sheath, which was starting to grow brown fur. In fact several regions of Mike's body were beginning to turn shaggy with fur.

Mike growled annoyed as the itchiness all over his body became unbearable. He started scratching himself, but the fur didn't stop covering the bare spots of his body. Only when Mike's entire form was covered in a thick and somewhat protective pelt did the itchiness subside.

The former man sighed in relief that the transformation was finished, but he also knew that his problems only begun. He was an animal now! And after squinting his eyes for a moment Mike realised that he was stuck in an animal enclosure. Which made him realise that it was all a well thought plan to make him the zoo's newest attraction.
