SEEDSPROUT

Wondrous Item, uncommon (requires attunement)

This magic quarterstaff is made of a special type of wood taken from trees that developed a strong connection to primal magic. A whitebark covers most of this staff, and you can always find some kind of vegetation growing in it. You gain a +1 bonus to attack and damage rolls made with this magic weapon.

Every day at dawn, ten red berries sprout from this quarterstaff. The berries duplicate the effect of a Goodberry spell. In addition, while you attune to this quarterstaff, you know the "druidcraft" cantrip as if it were from your class's spell list.
