

"End Of Knights - Losing to a Kobold"

Written By MetalHeadKendra

Original idea and scene by Lusterwolf for End of Knights

Blurb:

In the kingdom of Sayon, there is a heavy lust spell that causes all creatures to get stronger and more aroused. In an abandoned town, Avina the lioness has been defeated in battle to her Kobold enemy, and instead of finishing the battle, the reptile has a different idea in mind for her...

With a grunt, you fall to the hard ground with an audible thud. The opposing Kobold smiled fiendishly, knowing what came next. You have no strength to get back up or fight the enemy any longer; you're far too exhausted to defend yourself. The scaled creature crawls up and looks you over, all the while glancing around him in the deserted town. It was empty, there wasn't a person to be seen.

The green-scaled Kobold let out a gleeful cackle as he grabs you by your ankles and drags you towards a secluded area that he spotted earlier; a darkened alleyway that not even the sky could see. "Yess, mines!" He hisses out quietly. Once you and he are secluded the lizard wastes no time in removing anything that you were carrying, completely stripping you of all of your gear and making you lay there stark naked. The pink fog billowing throughout the world filled the reptile's flaring nostrils, enticing his thoughts even further as they spurred his body to action. Tossing aside his brown whip, the Kobold himself quickly stripped down to his skin.

You struggle to get up but your muscles complain in protest, you have no energy left in your body. You let out a gasp when seeing the Kobold standing over you, in the nude and sporting a throbbing erection. His reddish-colored cock was several inches longer than strangers would have thought possible for the species; there was roughly eight inches protruding out from his reptilian slit. It was smooth and narrow, somewhat curved with bulbous muscles along the shaft, and the head was tapered into a soft fleshy point. The cock throbbed lightly with each heartbeat, and you can feel your body reacting in response to the throbbing.

Almost as if he could smell the arousal between your legs, the Kobold walked back over to where he had dropped his whip and set to work. Flipping you onto your belly, he uses his weapon to tie your arms together behind your back securely, an unbreakable restraint that you will not be free of. You start grunting as you attempt to rip yourself free from the restraints, but the strong whip and your exhaustion prevent you from doing much.

With a low, throaty growl, the Kobold roughly spreads your legs apart as he falls to his knees between them. He leans over and rests his shaft along your buttocks, very softly grinding against your cheeks. His grinding grows more intense and rough, slowly putting pressure against your body. The Kobold let out a satisfied, guttural cry before using his claw to aim his tip at your pussy. You begin struggling, your limbs thrashing to break free but you are helpless now; not just by the weakness in your body, but your arousal grew to the point that even your own womanhood was wetting, coated with slick juices.

The Kobold pushed his hips forward, impatient and quick to penetrate you. At first he slides out of your slit, so he took it a little slower. He then finds his mark and starts to slide himself in slowly but forcefully. Your wetness was allowing him to push in much easier. The Kobold lets out a pleased grunt as he hilts himself in you, his full eight inches buried in your pussy. You can feel his heat radiating within and along your labia, and you huff in frustration as it only arouses you further. The Kobold hears your huff and he leans over to put his snout beside your ear. "You take it. Mines." He snarled lowly.

Without giving you any time to ponder his words, the Kobold begins thrusting his hips into your rear. His cock was sliding in and out of your pussy without the head ever leaving your entrance. His hips slapped against your ass as he thrusts forward with a violent motion, making his cock slam into your slit. You gasped at his first few thrusts, and began letting out breathy grunts after a few more. It hurt at first, but the pain was slowly turning into pleasure that radiated through your body. You start to growl as you begin to thrash around again, but the Kobold uses one of his arms to pin your torso down as he continues to hump you. You're forced to lay on the ground, your eyes seeing only the ground below you and the entrance of the alleyway, leading to the empty street where you had lost your battle.

His thrusts became quicker and heavy, his eight inches slamming into you rapidly as his hips made audible sounds against your ass. The Kobold lets out a throaty moan as his cock throbs within you, your tightness causing his pleasure to spike wildly. He lifts his arm from your back to sit up a little more just to thrust into you deeper, his claws trailing along your back and through your golden fur. His hand clasps onto your ass cheek and gives it a rough squeeze, then lifts his hand up high to spank your rear loud and hard. You yelp softly and feel a burning blush in your face at his molesting.

You aren't sure how long it had been, you've lost track of time and how many times the lizard had thrust into your slit, you just know it's been a long while. The Kobold finally slows to a stop, enjoying just resting in your pussy for a minute. With a huff, he pulls back and his cock slips from your pussy, some of your juices and some of his precum leaving your entrance at the same time. He grabs your legs and uses them to flip your body without warning. You're forced onto your back while laying on your arms, letting out a grunt as he forces himself between your legs again.

Now you're able to look at your enemy, a smirk on his maw as he violently shoves his cock into your pussy again without warning. You gasp out at the suddenness while he begins roughly fucking you, getting back to his previous tempo and power of quick and hard rhythms. His groin was slamming against your labia this time, each thrust pounding against your womanhood that would make it sore for days to come. You writhe a little in your vulnerable position but could ultimately do nothing against your enemy, especially when you're already struggling to fight the urge to moan and excite your assaulter any further.

The Kobold growls possessively as he thrusts into your wet pussy, your juices now leaking onto the ground with each pump. His eyes look over your body greedily as his claw reaches up to fondle and grope at one of your breasts. "Mmm, mines..." His claw was not gentle, his grabbing rough and his nipple pinching painful. Your small whines of pain only seemed to make the lizard smile wider as he twisted and pulled at her pink nipples.

Your pussy was tight on his cock, but the Kobold was lasting longer than any of your previous partners. Your slit is getting sore from his constant pounding and he showed no signs of stopping any time soon. His moaning and grunting with pleasure didn't give a hint of exhaustion, they were fueled with the arousal of the pink mist that plagued the world currently. Even now, you can feel your sex giving in, each thrust feeling good and slowly bringing you to your climax.

Without warning, the Kobold withdraws from your slit again. You collapse onto the ground, panting softly as you finally get a small respite from his humping. You can feel your pussy throb, both in relief at the stopping but in annoyance as you were close to cumming. Your break was quickly interrupted however, as a green clawed hand grabs you by your red hair atop your head to force you to sit up. You cry out in pain and look up to find the Kobold had changed his position, now standing in front of you with his erection not even an inch from your face, throbbing and ready to go while glistening with your juices coating his eight inches. You may have been weak, but you were determined not to let this Kobold win. With a huff, you turn your head away from your enemy, feeling pain as his claw held onto your hair firmly.

With a snarl, the Kobold decided to force his way with you again. Using his free hand, he turns your head back to his cock and pries your mouth open to quickly shove his member in. You let out a cry but it's muffled by his cock, which he slowly forces into your mouth. You can only fit six inches before you begin to gag lightly and audibly which makes him pause. Rather than force his last length in, he starts to thrust his hips and begins using your mouth to pleasure himself. He lets out a lusty growl as his cock starts to feel good in your mouth. You had the idea to use your teeth on him, but you quickly decided against that idea, he still has a grip on your hair and would only use that against you.

Every few thrusts in he pushes too far and you start to gag more and more on his cock as it nearly forces itself down your throat. Saliva and your previous juices on his member start leaking from your lips and land on your chest as you're forced to suck on his cock. Your tongue rubs against the underside and tip of his length, and despite your determined nature to not give in, your thoughts were occupied with lusty thoughts about how smooth his cock was, as well as how it throbbed inside your mouth.

Again you lose track of the minutes as they pass with the Kobold's lasting stamina. Your pained jaw had been forced open for a while, being used as a new play toy for the Kobold's large cock, before eventually he made his way back down between your legs and was thrusting into your wet, needy pussy as you lay on your back and bound arms. His grunts were starting to deepen as he panted softly, his cock now throbbing more and more. You can feel he was nearing his climax. His thrusts grew ferocious as he pounded you, his pleasure completely taking over.

After a few hard slams, the Kobold buries himself within your slit and stops thrusting. His cock begins throbbing wildly inside you, his cum shooting out from the tip and deep into your womb. His hips moved on their own, bucking into you lightly as he came. There was too much cum for your womb to handle as it started to leak out, so the Kobold pulls his cock out of you slowly. He was pent up, as he continued to shoot ropes of cum; they covered your groin, your slit, and some shots travelled far enough to land along your belly and breasts.

Soon enough his orgasm was finished, and the Kobold was panting softly, spent from using most of his energy to fuck you. After a moment of rest, and once his cock was soft and retreated into his reptilian slit, the lizard-like creature got to his feet and went over to his gear to quickly put it back on. You're still too weak to move, your pussy and legs sore from the rough and intense fucking; any attempt you made to close your legs burned like hell fire so you decided to rest it out for a while longer. Your pussy throbbed with need, never getting your own orgasm as the Kobold was leaving you unsatisfied. The Kobold prepares to leave, flipping you onto your belly without grace as he takes his whip back, freeing your arms. He quickly took his leave, abandoning you within the shadowed alleyway as he disappeared from your sight. You let out a small groan as the blood rushes back to your hands, sending pain throughout your arms like needles rapidly poking your flesh.

Good Ending

Several minutes later, you feel strength returning to your body. Gingerly, you sit up and inspect your body. You grimace at the cum that marks you, obvious signs that you were used like a rag for someone else's pleasure. You attempted to get what you could out of your fur before standing and grabbing your things. You leave the dark alleyway and go to a nearby abandoned house, using some found murky water in a bucket to scrub the evidence of your recent assault from your body. With weak legs and a sore slit, you walked on and continued your adventures for the day.

Bad Ending

Your ears perked up as you hear the telltale sounds of someone approaching. You look towards the street, your only entrance and exit to the alley, and realize that staying in this spot was a bad idea, you have nowhere to run to and someone would have heard the intercourse that happened mere moments ago. Looking up, there was another larger Kobold approaching you from the street, smirking devilishly like the last one had when he overpowered you in battle.

Already this red Kobold was stripping off his gear as he got closer to your naked form, revealing he was a male with a cock that seemed even larger than the last. Despite your will to make your body thrash or get up, your muscles had given up; you have no strength or energy left to fight back after your previous sexual session had worn you out so much. All you can do is look up at the new contender who was already preparing to breed you. Then your heart stops as your eyes widen, you can see behind the lusty reptile. There was a group of several Kobolds, all smiling wickedly as they too entered the dark alleyway...
