

DARKQUILL LIBRARY

Scroll of Delving #010

This abandoned monster hunter's library is, ironically, now filled with dozens of monstrous creatures all formed entirely of animated parchment, tomes, and novels.

1. LIBRARY ENTRANCE

Outsiders wishing to utilize this library would await their chaperone in this foyer.

- + [Artwork] The walls are covered in massive murals and paintings depicting legendary moments in the order's history.
- + [Guardians] 2 stone golems depicting the order's founders guard its entrance.
- + [Treasure] The smashed corpses of several other adventurers litter the floor.

2. UNDEAD SECTION

Holds the order's research on undead.

- + [Parchment Zombies] 2 dozen zombies made entirely of rotten, filth-covered parchment roam this section's shelves.
- + [Cursed] Anyone who reads a tome from this section risks contracting a plague.

3. MONSTROSITY SECTION

Holds the order's research on monstrosities.

- + [Parchment Monster] A roper-like monster made entirely of book covers and lengths of uncut parchment clings to the ceiling. A few of its "tentacles" are spell scrolls.

- + [Cursed] Reading a monster's name aloud in this section causes it to take physical form from the nearby books and parchment.

4. DRAGON SECTION

Holds the order's research on undead.

- + [Parchment Dragon] Sleeping atop a massive horde of books stolen from other sections of the library is a 5-headed dragon made entirely of parchment.
- + [Secret Stairs] A trapdoor to the library's secret collection {area 5} is concealed by the parchment dragon's hoard.

5. ABERRATION SECTION

Holds the order's top-secret research on the mysterious creatures known as aberrations.

- + [Parchment Aberration] A single, massive book formed from thousands of smaller books. It has gained sentience and is making the final edits to its own literary masterpiece which is all about its forthcoming invasion of the realms.
