Squeaky Cat

Catgirl Rubberizer

Based On 22,745 Reviews

A mysterious package arrives. The featureless cardboard box is addressed directly to you, but you can't remember having ordered anything. Was it one of your roommates? One of your friends? One of your neighbors? There's only one way to find out, and that's to open the box and see what's inside.

You find yourself assembling the contents of the package together on the dining room table. One after another, the individual boxes of Squeaky Cat Catgirl Rubberizer are set upon the table, accompanied by a scent that seems to mix the finest parts of fresh latex rubber and the heady floral scent of premium aphynip. You can't help but feel just a tiny bit horny as you and your equally puzzled roommates gaze upon the collection. There are seven cans in total, one for you and each of your roommates. Surely that's just a coincidence, isn't it?

Of course it isn't, and neither is the fact that you're all starting to feel as if your usual inhibitions have taken a trip to the other side of the galaxy. You are losing control of your natural curiosity. You just can't help yourself, and neither can any of your companions. One of them takes a can of Squeaky Cat out of its box and removes the lid. She eyes you up and down as a mischievous smile forms on her face. What comes next? Well, you're certainly about to find out, aren't you?
