STAFF OF THE FLOATING DISK

Quarterstaff, uncommon

This quarterstaff is made of a magical magnetic metal called Aproutium. When you heat this metal for the first time, it creates a magical bond. No matter in how many pieces you divide it, the parts of that particular ore will always have a magnetic link.

You gain a +1 bonus to attack and damage rolls made with this magic weapon, which has the thrown property with a normal range of 20 feet and a long range of 60 feet. When you use the thrown property of this weapon, the metal ore that hovers over the staff flies to strike the target. Immediately after you make a ranged attack, the ore flies back to hover over the staff.
