

Pitch Perfect

Everybody loves a high-pitched, delicate voice that makes them smile and feel confident in themselves. You know that you dislike your own, rough, masculine tone, so why not train your new voice to be as sweet as sugar and as light as a feather?

This file encourages listeners to talk in a high-pitched feminine voice whenever possible. From telling the story at a family gathering to ordering the perfect meal at a restaurant, the more the listener talks in their new, feminine voice, the more confident and in control they will feel in their everyday life! Learn to love your new, adorable, feminine tone and know that you sound better and more confident with a high-pitched, girly voice. Remember that you love speaking like a complete girly girl more and more every day, and become more and more motivated to practice your girly voice until it is completely perfect and passable in public. Watch feminine media and emulate and idolize your girly and feminine friends until you can talk and communicate like the beautiful woman you have always craved to emulate and idolize. Learn how much more confident you are in yourself the more you are accepted as the woman you have always known yourself to be.

A feminine pitch is perfect for your ideal future. Listen and loop today to start working towards the soft, delicate voice that you were always meant to have.
