The night was quiet within the city; crickets chirping, owls hooting, and the streets being laid barren to any sort of life. However, in the distance, an echo could be heard—one of merriment, with lutes and drums—with flutes and singing. Though—most importantly—with food and drinking.

Yes, the inside of a lone Tavern was the unquestioning reason for the otherwise solemn night to be lit up with celebration. The room was aglow with an orange hue, and the waft of meals being served, as well as the sway of alcohol!

Tables were surrounded by a gaggle of unique individuals celebrating the end of the day. Within this den of drinkers, we find our-- “Come on, pleeeeee Kazumaaaa!” Erm...?

Ehem. Within this den of drinkers, we find our-- “Please please please! I'll diiiiie if you don't feed me!” Urg...Withinthisdenofdrinkerswefindour--“How could you be so crueeeel?!!”

Aqua—we find Aqua. A-once-Goddess who aided in sending those who died to other dimensions which required aid as heroes. Now, however, she had been ripped of her job due to a young man who--“Kazumaaaa!” ...I give up.

“Why are you treating me like I'm starving you?! You already finished your plate!” Exclaimed the young man; brushing his hand through his brown hair. “Just because you used to stay inside alone all alone doesn't give you the right to be mean to otherrrrs!” Cried out the woman sitting across the table from him. Beautiful light blue hair, and deep azure eyes which sparkled like diamonds—especially through her tears. The maiden's skin was extremely fair, with a decently curvaceous build; but was considered shorter than average, being roughly 5'4 to Kazuma's 5'7 height.

The woman's blue blouse was stained from a mix of wine and steak, which she had devoured only minutes ago. “Don't bring my past into this!” Kazuma exclaimed; standing up from his seat. Aqua continued to pout; her head buried into her arms as she lay face down onto the table. “Megumin, can you believe how cruel this NEET is?...” Slamming his hands down on the table, Kazuma continued to defend his ego with vigor. “I'm not a NEET anymore!! It's not my fault your over-sized rear takes so much food! If you want more, buy it yourself!”

While Aqua was considered short, there was an even shorter woman present at the table. A member of the race known as 'The Crimson Demon'...whatever that means. She herself had a rather underdeveloped figure—with no standout features whatsoever, save for her piercing red eyes. Said eyes were currently staring directly at her next bite of delicious steak. Drool moved down her chin as she gawked at the beautifully sculpted food. Though, the Witch quickly found her focus broken due to the onslaught of bickering occurring across, and beside her.

“I can, actually. Only someone like him would interrupt such a generous meal sent for a wielder of magic as talented as me!” Megumin boasted—waving her fork around smugly; yet, as she went to take a bite, her piece had been quickly snatched by another fork belonging to Kazuma. "THAT MEAL WAS BOUGHT BY ME!" The NEET exclaimed; looking down at the short Crimson Demon while holding the chunk of beef high into the air.

Megumin looked at the naked fork she held for a moment in silence. "Kazumaaaaa, I was just kidding! I knew it was you who bought it! Pleaaaaase, I'm so hungry!" The Witch cried out, attempting to climb up to the glorious hunk of steak, only to be stopped by Kazuma's arm. "G-Get off! You have a whole plate right there!" Pouting, the Witch continued to violently struggle to obtain her savory prize. "But it's not that piece! It's not fair! I did all the work killing that arch-toad!" Rolling his eyes, the NEET let out a sigh of frustration. Though, she did have a point-she was the one who managed to explode the creature-but only thanks to Darkness' ability to distract it.

"I guess you have a point...fine, here you-" But, before the man could finish, pursed lips wrapped around the silverware, as Aqua took the chunk for herself. Tears formed in Megumin's eyes as she looked towards the Useless Goddess. "W-Waaaah! Aqua, that was miiiiine! How could you!!" The short Witch exclaimed; arms waving in extreme protest.

"Sorry Megumin I just couldn't help myself! Mmm, it's so good!~" The blue-haired Goddess affirmed; daintily swallowing the beef. "You...you monster!" Megumin cried out, with a mix of dread and hate in her face. "How dare you trick someone as powerful as I-with the strength of the hells withing me! Prepare to face my wrath!!"

Kazuma knew trouble was going to occur soon, seeing Megumin bring out her staff. "WAIT, WAIT! D-Darkness, a little help here?!"

Looking next to Aqua, a beautiful, tall, blonde woman could be seen. Her hair was like gold-cascading down in a pony tail towards her lower back, as well as wearing rather heavy looking armor. Despite this defensive equipment, she did possess noticeable curves, which only accentuated her femininity. However, as Paladin-esc as Darkness looked, she was probably the most depraved. A masochist which chose her line of work out of a mix of goodness within her heart to protect, but also, to be the one on the receiving end of most encounters.

Almost unsurprisingly, the babysitter that was Kazuma, looked on in despair as the woman panted panted heavily; face red as a tomato. "Hah...~ Oh, now you require my assistance Kazuma? I was here the whole time, but was ignored during the entire conversation! Such acts of scornful absence of my existence only goes to show how much I must mean to you all!! Surely, you must see me as some forgetful woman-one who is only valuable when my body is needed to-" And so she continued on and on...

It was obvious that this Knight wasn't going to be any help whatsoever. Eyebrows twitching, Kazuma had to take a step back; gripping Megumin by the collar, and lifting her up. She was like an angry puppy-squirming and screaming as he looked at her with a tired gaze. "Unhand me Kazuma! My beef needs to be avenged!" The Witch bellowed, while Aqua snickered; leaning over to take another piece. "Sorry, you'll need to avenge more than your bite of meat, after I-" Though, the Goddess was interrupted as she felt a fork stab into her hand.

"..." The Goddess looked down, before looking back up to the NEET who embedded the tableware into her in the first place. "..."

“OW OW OW OW OW! WAHAaaaaAH! KAZUMA WHY! IT HURTS! IT HURTS!” The would-be thief screamed, gripping her hand tightly. “Aqua, we can't keep buying stuff for you! You need to learn some better magic, and fast.” Kazuma sternly explained; while sitting down the Witch back in front of her food. If she wasn't going to learn through critical thinking-maybe some tough love would work out. “And Megumin, don't blow this place up! We can't afford it!”

The Useless Goddess' cheeks had puffed up-speaking through pursed lips, embarrassingly. “Well, I can do some healing magic...” Aqua added, pushing her fingers together. “Not good enough, Aqua! Look, we're going to kill another Arch-Toad tomorrow, and we're going without you, if you don't shape up.” The NEET spoke-exhaling with a sigh as placed his palm into his face; trying his best to think out how to articulate to this airhead.

“W-Wh-what?! Kazumaaaa! You can't be serious!” Aqua interjected-hopping onto the table and crawling over; grasping against Kazuma's tunic. “Please no! I need the money to eaaaaat! What do you expect me to do?! Manual labor, again?! It's unbecomiiiiing!”

“Stop getting your tears in my clothes!” The brown-haired boy responded bluntly; pushing the crying woman's head back. “You also don't pay for your meals, and can't keep gouging money for doing nothing! You want back in, show us any sort of offensive magic that might be useful! Like it or not; Megumin has a powerful spell, and Darkness can tank most hits. You, on the other hand...well...”

Kazuma looked down at Aqua's saddened expression; feeling awful trying to explain the convey the concept to her. “Well-” “-You are useless, and only exist as bait at best!” The Witch interjected-much to Kazuma's surprise. Aqua's face only grew more and more depressed as the short demon continued her evil berating. “You really just sit there and do party favors, while we do the actual stuff!”

Even Kazuma was astonished at just how cruel Megumin was being! “W-Why-well, I'll....fine! You'll see! You'll all see! When I show you what I can do, you'll be begging me to return! Then I'll get to eat anything I want, because I'll be so useful and rich!” Aqua sputtered through her streaming tears. “Say what you want, but it'll pale in comparison to my explosion magic!~” Megumin added-rubbing against her staff in a way that could be only be described as a way that questioned just how close she was to explosion magic.

“Oh, do me next, please!~” Darkness added, blatantly. “Darkness, isn't this extreme?! Shouldn't you say something?!” The brown-haired boy added; attempting to get some sort of handle on the situation. “Normally, I would! But Megumin is just being too assertive! It's enough to make my goosebumps get goosebumps!~” The Knight added-shifting in her seat as she felt her womanhood only grow more and more aroused.

While this was occurring, it would seem berating had gone on for as much as the Goddess could handle. “That's enough! I'm out of here! Waaaaahhh!” Aqua cried out; dashing out of the tavern as a complete mess of emotion. “W-Wait, Aqua!...Ugh...” Kazuma sighed; pinching the bridge of his nose. “Megumin, why did you have to be so cruel?”

The Witch made a satisfied huff. “A proud demon like myself must get vengeance for the fallen! The honor of my beef has now been restored, thanks to the tears of those that betrayed our trust!” Megumin stated-puffing her chest out in pride; ready to take another bite of her delicious meal. Yet, a distant cry became louder and louder as Aqua barged back into the tavern; face still wet from crying.

“Waaaaaah!!” The Useless Goddess sped to the table; snagging the Witch's steak, and dashing out-stuffing her face as she vacated. “Mrg! So-mrmm-so meaaaaan!”

“W-What?! Hey, get back here!” Megumin demanded-attempting to jump over the table; only to be grabbed by Kazuma and Darkness. “Hey! I think you've done enough for now, you pain! Ugh...we'll just have to see if she's okay after our mission, but you best be ready to apologize, or else...” The NEET lowered his head to the squirming girl, who was still blindly continuing her absent threats towards the now gone- Aqua. “You'll be eating pig's feed for dinner...” Kazuma whispered; malice in each word that dripped out of his mouth.

Megumin's eyes widened, as she slowly ended her squabbling. “...H-Heh! M-Maybe an apology won't be so bad!...” The Witch acknowledged with nervous affirmation; sitting herself back down. “Nice work, Kazuma! My turn, my turn!~ I'll even try the pig's feed!~” Darkness added.

The distraught Goddess found herself roaming the dirt path between a maze of buildings; each with their own respective lanterns put out for the night. Despite finishing off the delicious meal that she had obtained, Aqua felt more disheartened than ever before. “Stupid Kazuma...stupid Megumin with her explosion magic, and stupid Darkness with her strong body! Ragh!”

The blue-haired woman stomped the ground; throwing the empty dish forward in anger. Much to her dismay, it didn't go far; but-however-it was on a direct course for a hooded individual crossing the road, hitting him in the head, and knocking him to the ground, in one clean motion. “GAH!”

A sudden realization of what had happened racked the Goddess' heart. “Oh no! Umm...uh! Sorry! Though, who walks around in a creepy robe at night, anyway?!” Aqua yelled; approaching the prone individual. The man groaned; finally finding his footing to stand up, shakily. “Rg....M-Madam, I heard some yelling and crying, so I thought I would come right away. Despite the blood I feel trickling down my cheek, I think I am fine, but what about yourself?”

As the figure inquired; he proceeded to open his cloak-showing a masterful network of vials and serums within assorted pockets. In a series of dexterous movements, the man would take out a bright red potion, and take a swig; the bleeding stopping nearly instantly. “Well, my friends had just-huh? What did you just do?” Aqua postulated; stopping her story before it could realistically get started.

The young man let out a chuckle as he gestured to the nearly empty vial in his hands. “Ah, but a simple healing potion. One swig, and you're good as new! I'm an apothecary of sorts! Though, I don't carry pots! Gwahahah!...Well, normally that gets someone to chuckle besides me.” The man responded, a deflated. “You must also be a miracle worker if people find that funny.” Aqua retorted.

Yet, a realization had hit the Goddess. “W-Wait, if you can sell potions to heal others, than that means....WAAAHHHH!” Gripping her head, Aqua wept even harder than before. The man-feeling quite uncomfortable-reinstated his question. “Wh-what is the matter, girl?!”

Sniffing through large orbs of water that were her tears, Aqua attempted to speak as fluently as possible. “M-My (sniff) adventuring party-(sniff, snort) said I was useleeeeeess! If-if they can heal through potions, I have nothing left! Waaaaahaaaaaah!” With her last statement, the woman fell to her knees in defeat.

The young man looked over the crying girl, pondering for a moment. “Hrm...I-I see...-”

“-If only someone had (sniff) some sort of potion that could make me useful! But that (snort) would never happeeeeen!” Aqua grieved; stopping for a moment to peak up at the hooded figure.

His silence was a beacon for the Goddess to cry more. “If oooooonlyyyy someone could be kind enough to help me be strongerrrrr!”

Placing a hand to his head; the apothecary finally gave in, with a reluctant sigh. “Ugh, okay-I get it, I get it! Just stop crying! Here.” The man once again opened his robe; reaching in for a luminous blue potion. Aqua found the item to be magnificent; something that could match her own hair in coloration and beauty! “W-Whoah! It looks so cool!” She stated; jumping back to her feet. “Really recovered quickly.” Muttered the hooded man. “This is a potion of magical strength. Drink this, and you'll find that your class' magical abilities will be amplified.”

Aqua's glassy eyes continued to gaze at the stunning liquid within the glass casing. “Wowy! Though, what kind of healer carries potions to help magic users become more powerful?” Taking a moment to think to herself, a smug grin formed on the Goddess' face as she leaned in closer. “You have some sort of fetish helping weak girls out?”

Hesitantly, the man took a step back. “Th-That has nothing to do with this! I carry more than just items to heal-in fact-I specialize in potions which bolster the human condition! Very expensive, though. You're lucky I'm feeling generous enough to let you use this one!”

Aqua's eyes became even more hyper fixated on the apothecary. “Y-You have more?! You mean, all those were potions that could help me?! Let me see, let me see!” The Goddess demanded; taking another step forward. The hooded man; matching Aqua's pace, took an equally distant retreat backwards. “Sorry, no can do. All these are to be used apart from one another. Who knows what will happen if you take too much at once?”

The Goddess had her mind made up! No one was going to ever call her useless again, and the key to that success was right before her! She just needed that bottle in his hand, and that fancy cloak of his. Luckily, Aqua's craftiness knew no bounds; and a masterwork of a plan was forming in her mind.

“Hey, look over there! It's a tall Witch woman with insane curves and muscles!”

“Huh, where?!” The hooded man turned; only to have Aqua snatch the bottle, and pulled the man's sleeves off; before gripping the robe and dashing with great haste! “See?! I knew you had a fetish!” The Goddess boasted as she turned a corner into a nearby alleyway, which only led to a larger network of openings she could take. “H-Hey, get back her-oh wait, she was right.”

The hooded man looked over at the sight of an 8ft tall woman with cascading black hair tied back; leering down to her quality rump. Her hues were a vibrant silver, which shimmered in the moonlight. Equally impressive as her beauty, was her body; looking like she was more built to be a barbarian than a Witch. Shrugging, the hooded man began to make his way to the spellcaster. “Well, maybe it won't be that bad for her to hang onto those potions for a bit.”

Aqua had sprinted a good distance from the road she was on prior-a wild grin on her face as she opened the cloak; oggling at the numerous vials and serums which lay. A line of drool would move down her chin while she took in all her options. “Hehhh! So many to choose from, I don't know which to start with!...So why not all of them?!”

The Goddess was quick to take each and every vial, no matter the color, and place it into a large bottle, found inside one of the pockets. The ending potion was nearly a liter, and swirled with opaque coloration of a rainbow. Not only this, but said rainbow potion was emitting a glow, and vibrating subtly. “Pretty....also, maybe a bit scary?” Aqua thought about it once more for a moment, but recalled the feeling of uselessness, and embarrassment that she had experienced only minutes prior. “No! No longer the Useless Goddess Aqua; now the Ultimate Goddess Aqua!”

With that, Aqua placed the bottle to her lips-gulping down the entirety of the fluids within. “Ah~! Delicious! Super sweet too! Reminds me a bit of-” A sudden rumbling had caught the woman off guard-looking down, Aqua felt her stomach churn slightly. “M-Maybe this was a bit too much? Eeep!”

Aqua could see her veins alight with a soft glow that was quickly becoming brighter and brighter, as it moved up and down the length of her pear-shaped form. “T-Tingly...perhaps this was a bad idea!” The Goddess adjudicated; watching the rainbow coloration progress up her neck; finally flooding her brain with the substance. The, originally, bright azure eyes, would shift abruptly-swirling into a mass of even brighter colors.

Aqua could feel her body beginning to shift with the newfound warmth within her. A devious smile would form on her face as her limbs relaxed from the sensation. “Oh, it definitely was not...!”

“Hehehe...ahaha!” With the fluids pumping through her veins, Aqua's body sprang to life like a jolt of lightning! The Goddess' stick thin arms would begin the process of enhancement first and foremost-with her biceps throbbing larger and larger! Veins circulated and strained up against her biceps' newfound peaks while she indulged in the Nirvana that was racing within her!

Crevices of newfound meat were being added to her frame at a rapid rate-sculpting out her form with each slow breath she took. “Yes~! Nfgh!~ Feels good to get-hah-stronger!~” Aqua acknowledged-unconsciously flexing her meaty arms; giggling giddily to see her biceps now as large as one of the roasts she had cooked the other night! The muscle itself was surely rivaling that of an Orc, and it had only been a few moments! Curiously, the woman placed her palm over the growing limb; once again giggling with pleasure.

“Hah~! I can't even fit my hand around thi-whoahah~!!” Nearly knocking Aqua onto her feet, another pulse would hit. Aqua's soft, fair skin was now being outlined along her stomach by newfound musculature. What was originally a flat stomach, was now etching away into a work of art! Cobblestone abdominal muscles were quickly filling in-causing her washboard abs to tense-which only electrified the pleasant feeling that was rocking her. “O-Oh fuck!~ Mngh!~ I can feel my strength stat skyrocketing! It feels-hg! Almost too good!~”

A red flush filled Aqua's face as she attempted to grip the wall next to her; feeling another wave reach her legs-this one she at least prepared for. A sudden sense of stability hit the woman, grounding her even deeper into the dirt beneath her, as her already large thighs expanded out with crevices of hard muscle! Her boots would tear near the top, unable to handle the amount of strength and tension was being placed on them, much to her delight. Her legs were changing into snake coils of brawn, which only made her feel more and more aroused. “Mgahhh!~”

Aqua couldn't handle it anymore-her watermelon thighs were the line for her! Lifting her-now much higher waist-skirt up, the Growing Goddess plunged her fingers into her womanhood-toying with her pussy as she felt herself enlarge. “Gah~! I'm not done! Give me more!~ Fuck!~”

The Goddess looked to the hand she was bracing herself with; feeling her hand instinctively clench as she played with herself. While doing so, she saw her fingers bury themselves into the stonework of the building-causing her forearms to flare up with more strength! It was like paper to her; breaking and crumbling from just a blissful clench of her fingers alone! “Hrmn~! I-I can already crush stone?! H-Holy fu-ahhh!~ More! I know you have plenty more to give, so give it to me already!!!”

And give it did; the Goddess feeling her body slowly creep upwards. Her lengthening, tree trunk legs stretching with newfound height and power! Aqua's form was now beginning to not only getting close to matching the 25ft building, but her breasts and ass were now fighting for space within the alleyway.

“So full!~ Ung, yes!~” The woman continued to fondle herself, enjoying the wet depths of her walls, while her breasts filled out further and further! The pillowy flesh was squished against the entirety of the building in front of her-with the weight bending and cracking the entirety of the surface! Aqua's skirt had reached it's apex while her cheeks only continued to acquire new mass! Soon, the once flattering skirt, had now completely torn away against her new bulk and curves, leaving Aqua's much more impressive form! In terms of scale to her size, the Goddess' breasts were borderline DD at this point; pumping and swaying as her body continued to feed on the sweet, sweet potion!

“Hgah! G-Getting cramped!~” Aqua exclaimed in a mix of worry and excitement. Yes, this was perfect! The power flowing through her was what she rightly deserved! However, this situation may have been seen as troublesome. Yet, she knew, deep down, that she would be fine, as the woman could see her hand getting deeper and deeper into the stonework while she enlarged. Continuing to finger herself; Aqua bathed the euphoria of what should be a strong, durable substance, crumbling under her dainty fingers.

“Mgn!~ Fuck yeah!!~ I can feel myself still getting stronger!~ But let me mak-ugh!~ Some room!!” Boasted the Goddess as she bent over; her rear now like 2 large wagons in terms of size; which were pressing against the adjacent home. Much to her glee, Aqua could feel the abode begin to crack and crumble against her, unstoppable, wrecking-ball rear. Audible sounds of rocks and wood groaning under the pressure could be heard, as the homes both fought against the Goddess' immense hourglass figure! “Heheh!~ No one will be able to stop me! Not with all this POWER!~”

Bellowing out, Aqua let out a powerful flex; the rainbow of veins only grew larger along the canvas of her skin. Yet again, a surge of pleasurable growth filled her entire form once again; rising to above the homes, and having her standing at a mighty 40ft! Her muscles tensed; letting out a wave which caused the already damaged homes to give into her might, and crumble completely to her boots. “HAHAHAHA! Oh YES!~ SO WEAK! Mmmnn!~”

The Goddess gazed at the other buildings around her; continuing to play with her cunt as she oversaw the cobblestone and thatched roofs. Yes, she was above them, and soon, she would be above the entire town! “Heheh!~ They're like toys now! But I can still feel myself getting even more powerful by the second!~” The Giantess would tense her abdominal; growing her cut 6 pack into deep crevices, which hinted at an 8 pack growing in. As she did so, the ground itself would shake under the movement of her powerful strength!

“No doubt I'm the physically strongest...but what about?...” Looking at another structure, Aqua would hold out her dainty hand. It was no surprise that she was far from an adept magic user in terms of offense; however, her reinforced ego made her feel like anything was impossible! She simple needed to recall on how that short Witch would cast her spells. Yet, Aqua's mind was ever-enhancing; her memory recall becoming more and more adept as time went on. “Ah yes, something so dramatic! Yet, why call onto hell, whenever I will be stronger? Ehem. I call upon the power of myself! The power I deserve to have! And to really rub it in that Megumin's face before I force them all to worship me! Explosion!”

With that, a large cascading belt of flame would erupt from the ground; illuminating the sky as if it were midday, and completely shattering the foundation...of the entire road. Heat that was white hot engulfed several homes like a volcano-smelting the entirety of the block, and causing masses of hot rock to rain down around the are. Large crashes crushed only more and more of the civilian residents within the area.

Despite the carnage, Aqua could only focus on her new abilities. Sure, she may have killed several people-maybe even a hundred, but it was for the greater good. It was for her to test her new power! Surely they would understand, right? It didn't matter-the Goddess couldn't help but continue her self gratification; feeling her womanly fluids splatter down her mammoth thighs. “Yes...yes! I'm stronger than Darkness, and more powerful than Megumin!”

Reinforcing her statement; Aqua leaned over towards a chunk of the wall which was destroyed by her rear, at least weighing 1 ton or so. At first, she struggled to lift it, but-to her joy-Aqua could see those same multi-colored veins form along her forearm; watching it swell once again into balls of meat which could no doubt require at least 20ft of rope to wrap around it! It was then, as her limb grew more and more potently powerful, she found herself lifting up the debris; watching it crack and crumble as she clenched her fist. “Yes! Oh yes! Of course, for someone like me, I deserve more! I will grow until I can show this entire town-no! Country what I can do! Hah, hah!~”

The Goddess could only indulge herself a bit further, as her limit quickly approached. It was all that she wanted-thought of her being bigger, and stronger. Having worshipers to listen to her every command. Ultimate power was finally at her fingertips! It was almost too much for her to handle! “Nghaaaaaaahhhh YEEEEEEEEEEEEES!~” Throwing her head back, Aqua felt a torren of cum explode from her pussy-drenching the remnants of the home. Said fluids sparkled like glitter against the moonlight. “Mmm~ Time to play some more!~”

“Okay, like we practiced.” Kazuma glared over to Megumin and Darkness, as the three roamed the town road. Megumin hissed in response, but finally gave in. “A-Aqua...I'm sorry...” Smiling, Kazuma placed his hand on the Witch's shoulder in approval. “See? That wasn't so-” “-Sorry for blowing you up for stealing my meal you harlot!-OW!” Flinched Megumin to Kazuma's slap. Relenting, Megumin huffed. “I understand why I might need to say sorry, but why does Darkness?”

Kazuma would shrug, looking over to the tall woman. “She just said she wanted to as well. You know how she is.” With a bright red flush on her face, Darkness was in heaven at the idea of throwing herself down and begging for forgiveness; a sexual grin on her face. “I cannot wait to grovel and plead to her! Truly, I was in the wrong!” The Knight boasted; shaking with anticipation. The NEET simply sighed. “Look, you don't need to grovel; an apology is all she needs.” Megumin; with puffed out cheeks, continued to pout. “What if I don't? It's not like she can do anything about-”

Suddenly, a quake across the town would nearly knock over the entirety of the group. “W-What the hell?! Are we under attack?” Kazuma inquired; attempting to keep his footing. “Look! Up there! I-It can't be!” Darkness beckoned; as lanterns began to light up the town-no doubt due to the emerging threat. Megumine felt a mighty wave of fear engulf her being; her mouth agape as she gawked at the illuminated silhouette. “N-No way! Impossible!”

Aqua couldn't help but giggle once as she lifted her massive heeled boot-looking down at the small shack that she had decimated with ease just moments ago. The crunch of wood, and bent metal was like a Bard's strum to her; only making her crave to show off her power even further! “Such a pathetic home to not even hold a bit of my weight! Hahahaha!~” It seemed that the amazonian woman was on a tear, buildings suffering from her powerful magic: with chunks of overheated stone now turned into balls of magma like sludge, or shelves of ice freezing the entirety of the gate to prevent escape. Not to mention, just the act of her simply walking was enough to leave a trail of bodies and destruction in her wake-her boot-prints showing exactly the path she had taken. Yet, despite all this, Aqua had more pressing matters-as now matter how much she called for growth, it would seem like her answers lay unheard. She knew she carried much more potential than that, but how to capitalize on it? Perhaps it had to do with her literally being a Goddess? “Hrm...this won't do, though. I am still only around 50ft tall! I want to be bigger!”

It was during her within the depths of her thoughts, that a voice called out to her. “AQUAAAAAAA!” Kazuma screamed; gripping his head in disbelief. “THIS IS GOING TO BE SO EXPENSIVE! WHAT ARE YOU DOING?!” Aqua's enhanced senses allowed her to not only hear the yelling across the entire town, but hone in on it with her beautiful rainbow eyes. Aqua's voice was like a symphony-dripping with much more sexual allure than she had any right to carry. Not to mention her insanely curvaceous figure, that appeared almost unearthly in terms of how tight her waistline was compared to her massive breasts, which hung over effortlessly, wide hips, and rear. “Oh, Kazuma; I didn't see little ol you over there!~ Is there anything I can help you with?~”

Kazuma looked at the other two; with Darkness' depraved thoughts winning over her more stoic side-finding the thought of submitting to such a mighty person beyond appealing! “Aqua, look at you!~ How could you do something so horrific! Imagine the lives you're ruining! Mng~ Imagine...” The masochistic Knight would repeat-drooling a bit at the thought. Surely she couldn't be this deranged, right?

Letting out a surprisingly feminine chuckle at the Knight's immediate subjugation, Aqua played with the thought. “Oh, how cute, Darkness!~ I might even take you up on that offer! However, you're all the way over there...oh! Don't worry; I know a shortcut!~” Smugly, Aqua took another playful step forward-placing her gigantic arms behind her back. As she did so, she felt her waist break through yet another home-crumbling it against her street-wide hips as if it was button a wet piece of parchment. Her boots playfully broke into the foundation and bedrock, enjoying the sensation of the crumbling against her heel under her weight!

Yet, before the Giantess could take another destructive step, her hears picked up on another voice calling out to her. The Goddess could see several men on horseback approaching; swords drawn and ready to fight if need be. “Stop, giant fiend! On behalf of the city guard, we are here to-” Aqua let out a yawn, as she adjusted her massive arm towards the group of men. The obvious Captain felt his ego begin to be crushed immediately, as he attempted to once again bark his orders. “Hey! I was ordering you to-” Yet again, Aqua did not allow the man to finish; once again chuckling as she turned towards them-her hulking frame kicking up dust by her movements alone. “Oh, no no no! You're being silly! I give the orders now; and I order you to worship your new Goddess!~ Thanks for the idea, Darkness!~”

The Captain appeared confused for a moment, but aimed his weapon with disrespectful vigor. “We will not be intimidated by-” “Bye~!” Aqua giggled whilst watching her new magic at play. Several circles could be seen appearing around her arm; glowing with a saturated cobalt light, which formed runes within the woman's 6ft palms. Instantaneously; a torrent of sparkling water would cascade from her hand; blasting the men with gallons and gallons of foamy death. “Aww, that's so cute!~ You can't even handle-ngh-my weakest water spells! That was just for party tricks-hah...!”

Aqua could feel herself-much like those men-getting wet while viewing the destruction of her water wave. The Knights themselves were carried by the current of the literal river that was formed-bludgeoned and bashed against the debris that the Goddess had left by simply walking! Following the pull of the roads, the flood of water continued to push through the town hitting against a bell tower, which crumbled the sturdy base, and having it come crashing down onto the men. As well as several more homes and inns were caught in the newfound water source along the way; carrying tons of material against the wall of the town; quickly shattering it as it poured out. In a matter of moments, it seemed that a quarter of the city was lying in ruin, just thanks to a few spells.

“Oops! I didn't mean to kill my potential worshipers! Oh well-” The rainbow-eyed Aqua gazed back over at the group, who were attempting to sneak away on their tip toes. “I know where I can get more, anyway.~ SO! Where do you three think you're going?” The Giantess asked, with her voice resonating throughout the lands.

Kazuma-caught in the act, turned his head ever slowly-having sweat dripping down his face. “J-Just taking a walk...out of town! R-Right, guys?” The Witch nodded-doing a horrible job to hide her fake smile. “Y-Yeah! We thought we'd do some early training, r-right Darkness!” Yes, this is what she wanted to see; all of them-well, at least Megumin and Kazuma-in fear of her power! Yet, something caught the Goddess of guard as Darkness spoke. Once more, it seems that the woman's cardinal desires had gotten the better of her. She was so tired of keeping her internal ambitions within herself, and simply had to get them out! “You're muscles are so big!~ I just want to touch them! You're so amazing, Aqua!!~”

There was a moment of silence as Aqua heard the devout praise. It was as if something had clicked within her as that feeling of energy once more took over. Another wave of pleasure rocked the Goddess-feeling her body tense up. Suddenly, Aqua's room-sized biceps began to grow yet again, with much more fervor than before! Almost as if engorging on the worship, the blue-haired woman's arms swelled-surgingly into beacons of power that were at least 15 ft in height! The audible crunch of her own muscle fibers was enough to get the Goddess to cum again! “Ungah!~ P-Power! There it is again!~”

Aqua's calves began to dwarf the very debris that she created-becoming like large balls of mass and strength that could easily take down the first floor of a settlement just by flexing! Meanwhile, her back etched ever more power into them; growing her traps growing into cut wings which attached into her massive boulder shoulders!

Continuing to rise, Aqua's body expanded up and out rose to 60ft in height-her viewpoint now matching the portions of the town wall that she had not destroyed! Aqua could see newfound magical affinity now being made manifest in the form of a glowing, icy aura around her. It radiated against her fair skin like a symbol of dominance; a glow that would attract all, like a moth to a flame. "Gah...~ Oh, wow...I think I've figured out how to get even bigger!"

A smile filled with malice would form on the Goddess' face as she called out. Playtime was over-she needed to get more, and she was going to get it! "People of this town; I am your ever-powerful Goddess Aqua! Come to me, or face the same fate as the town guard!" To emphasize her threat, Aqua flexed the pillars that were her thighs; letting out another wave which shook the very ground. However, this was no longer simply the surrounding street, but the entirety of the city seemed to quake and tremble! Stroking her hand through her silk-like hair, Aqua couldn't help but chuckle. "Mmm~ I love doing that!~"

The towns people-left with little choice-did as they were told, and approached the hulking titaness; including the three. Megumin was shaking with fear that she thought could never hit her. She had insulted a literal deity! Yet, she knew she could not run! Aqua looked down at the hundreds of people with glee; appearing like ants to her, which was still too big, in her opinion. "Yes, you all laughed at me! Called me useless, but look at me now! I'm stronger than ever! And you all will make me even stronger, or else! But first...where is Megumine?"

The Witch's heart skipped a beat; feeling her forehead glisten with sweat. Surely her friends would not rat her out so easily, right? Nor the towns peop-instantaneously; the crowd separated; pushing the Witch forward with no remorse. "Oof...who-KAZUMA?!" Megumin snapped; looking back at the NEET who was nervously waving. "S-Sorry! Good luck, I'm sure it'll be fine! Heheh!..."

Giggling playfully, Aqua held out her hand; dragging the girl along the ground to the Giantess using her magics. Aqua's aura up close was staggering, even to someone like Megumin; radiating magic like it was nothing. The Goddess enjoyed the obvious fear within Megumin's eyes. A true plaything to her now, and hers to do whatever she liked to her! She had final say! Then, the Witch began to speak. "A-Aqua! H-Hi! Um...about earlier..."

Smiling; the nearly nude Goddess would lower herself down to the Witch; wrapping her powerful hands around her. "Ah, water under the bridge, Megumin! Besides, if you didn't do this; I wouldn't be this sculpted! Nor this powerful! You have no idea how good it feels to be this STRONG!~" As she bellowed out; the crowd took a step back, being nearly blown away by the auditory energy that was produced.

Megumin winced at the loud noise penetrating her ears, but gave a nod. "H-Hah...g-glad! Um...so if you could put me down now-" "Hahahahaha! Oh, I can't do that! I have to thank you for turning me into the Goddess of Goddesses!" The hulking woman interjected; lowering the woman down towards her waist. Megumine would struggle; feeling Aqua's grip like an ever tightening prison. "W-What are you doing?!"

Red in the face, panting, Aqua let out a lustful sigh. This would be a beautiful, long, and pleasurable revenge to be sure! "I am pretty horny, and what better way to thank you, than to use you on my most sensitive of areas?" Before the Witch even had time to respond, she felt a whiplash from the movements. With that, Aqua shoved the witch into her wet and welcoming pussy. "Mng!~ F-Fuck; it's more intense when someone else-hah...is doing it!"

Aqua's legs would buckle as the Witch struggled; feeling each movements in her over-aroused pussy. Kazuma's jaw dropped as he looked on in horror. "AQUAAAA! DON'T KILL HER!" Which only received a playful giggle from the self-pleasuring Aqua. "Mmmn!~ Ch-Chill out, Kazuma!~ I used-mng~ some magic so she can't die!~She's gonna be there for a while, though!~ Now, for-ugh!~ You all! ~ Worship me!~ NOW!~ Tell me I'm amazing! That I'm the strongest! That I'm the opposite of useless! Or else you'll be nothing more than a splat on the road!" This was it, Aqua's true time to ascend. She was ready to get revenge on anything that even considered her remotely useless!

Confused, the crowd looked at one another, but eventually, one man acknowledged-lowering himself to the ground. "Y-You're the best, Aqua! We love you! You're the strongest ever!~"

With that, another pulsation hit the Goddess-feeling her wagon-sized rear begin to plump up and swell even further into battering rams of soft cheeks! "Mn! Yes!~" The Goddess acknowledged; gripping her engorged ass; her hand sinking into it playfully, surprised at just how sensitive her rear could be. Megumin's own struggles, as well, only making her more and more wet.

"MORE! YOUR GODDESS DEMANDS IT!"

Soon, the group continued their statements of worship. "You're the curviest!" "You're the most beautiful!" "You're among all!"

Each one caused the woman to spasm, as well, it would seem that the build up of energy was having a dramatic effect on her own aura; causing her body to be outlined in a bright blue glow. Aqua could feel her body building and improving-her arcane knowledge expressly trouncing those of most other classes already! The increased gray matter only made room for her egotism! "Yes....YESSSS HAHHAHA! OH FUCK!~"

Aqua's body gushed with power-erupting with even more muscles along her body. Pounds and pounds decorated her form; with her abdominal becoming cut even further than before, forming into an 8 pack of slabs! Obliques were like polished stones; shimmering with an unearthly shine as she swelled more and more. Her own muscle groups were continuing to multiply and expand; having her gargantuan form continuing to only grow more and more powerful! "YES! NO LONGER AM I THE USELESS GODDESS! BIGGER!~ MAKE ME BIGGER!~"

The crowd continued their chants as Aqua's magical potential only inflated. Not only mastering her class, but spells and abilities of other classes were becoming her playthings. She had never felt such freedom before-the fear the people held, it was all amazing to her. Megumin would still squirm within her tight walls; toying with her prey as droplets moved down her enlarging thighs.

The Goddess' body would feel itself lift up; leaving the very ground under her as she expanded more and more. Aqua's figure was engulfing the skyline as she ascended: 80ft, 120ft, 240ft. Each growth spurt only appeared to make her sex appeal even more dramatic than before.

Aqua's full breasts continued their perfect swell; the soft and supple skin enhancing and bouncing ever larger, becoming more and more rounded! Her areolas were like pink silk beds, with her nipples now hard and pronounced! “MMM~! THIS IS WHAT I DESERVE! MORE, I SAID!” The Goddess demanded; feeling her mighty lats outclassing entire sections of the town in terms of size! “AHHH~! FUCK!~”

The Goddess gazed at the sky-mouth agape as her juices rained down below her; feeling herself reach her first orgasm. Yet, the pleasure that rocked her body was far from over. “I AM ALREADY HORNY AGAIN! GUH!~ FEELS TOO GOOD TO STOP!~ I CAN FEEL MY INFLUENCE SPREADING!~”

Aqua's eyes were shifting into bright white voids as her magic continued to ascend beyond limits of the realm. Slowly, the growing woman's body now outclassed the surrounding landscape; being at least 1'500 ft! “YESSSS!~ ANGH!~” Yet another violent orgasm; causing a torrential downpour below.

The woman's influence continued to spread throughout the land; her own mastery of magic bending others to her will, which in turn, caused them to only make her more powerful. “FUCK!~ YES!~ WHY DID I WANT TO END AT-HAH-THE COUNTRY?! WHY NOT THE ENTIRE UNIVERSE!~” Aqua's curvaceous figure was all that was above the clouds themselves; her upper and torso having continental sized busts which swayed with enough heft to actually cause cataclysmic events simply by the amount of energy one movement could cause! Tornadoes could come and go; hurricanes could form and dissipate-hell, simply one of her fingers twitching on the ground could quake the planet itself!

And so she grew, Aqua's massive muscles now rivaling entire astral bodies as she grew more and more-her own sex appeal now surpassing what even a deity would find attractive! Her fine hair would illuminate with a powerful, iridescence; blocking out the very sun from the sky, but replacing it with the brightness of her own, which made an ever-beautiful, perfect sky, which shimmered like the purest of pure stars.

Reaching the outer atmosphere of the planet; Aqua had ascended beyond needing such trivialities as oxygen. “MMM~ NO LONGER SHALL THE SUN BE THE LIGHT OF THIS SOLAR SYSTEM!” She declared; growing herself larger and larger; her muscles pushing out against the moons of the planet itself. As Aqua demanded; her rear exploded with newfound sexual tissue; completely engulfing the ball of fire with one single cheek. “YOU ARE NOTHING TO ME! USELESS, ONE MIGHT SAY-HAHAHA!~”

And so, the Goddess continued on her quest for expansion; the cries and worship from her newfound servants fueling her to become larger and larger until the end of time. Her mighty muscles culled entire universes into them with ease; breaking black holes, and creating entire big bangs with blinks of her eyes. She truly was, all powerful...

Alternate Ending:

The chirping of birds could be heard outside, as the blue haired Goddess lie asleep at her desk; pajamas still in tow. Suddenly, the door was opened, with a disheartened sigh coming from Kazuma. “Aqua, wake up! We're already late!”

Opening her beautiful eyes, Aqua sat upright; looking down at her desk. Just as she left it, a book and quill, filled with pages of her own private writings. “Uh, what were you doing?” Kazuma would ask; tilting his head, quizzically. “N-Nothing! Now go get out of here so I can get ready!”

“Alright, but hurry up-we need to kill an Arch-Toad today, and I'm pretty sure Megumin is going to get swallowed, so you'll need to distract-I mean-help her.” Shrugging, Kazuma would close the door; giving Aqua time to look at her writings. Slowly, the woman would smile; letting out a sigh of relief. “Well, I may not be a super omnipotent Goddess; but at least they still like me.” With that, the woman would begin her routine to start a new day.
