these are
all crayola
wax crayons.
I like the idea
of colour pencils
and oil pastels,
but the former
is too hard
on my wrists
and the latter
is so messy!

These are fun,
they're similar to
my chunky digital
brush preferences.

a neighbour gifted me
absolutely ancient kids
colour sketchpad,
I love using non-artist
grade materials haha.

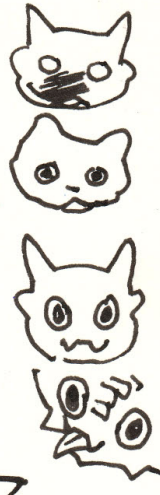

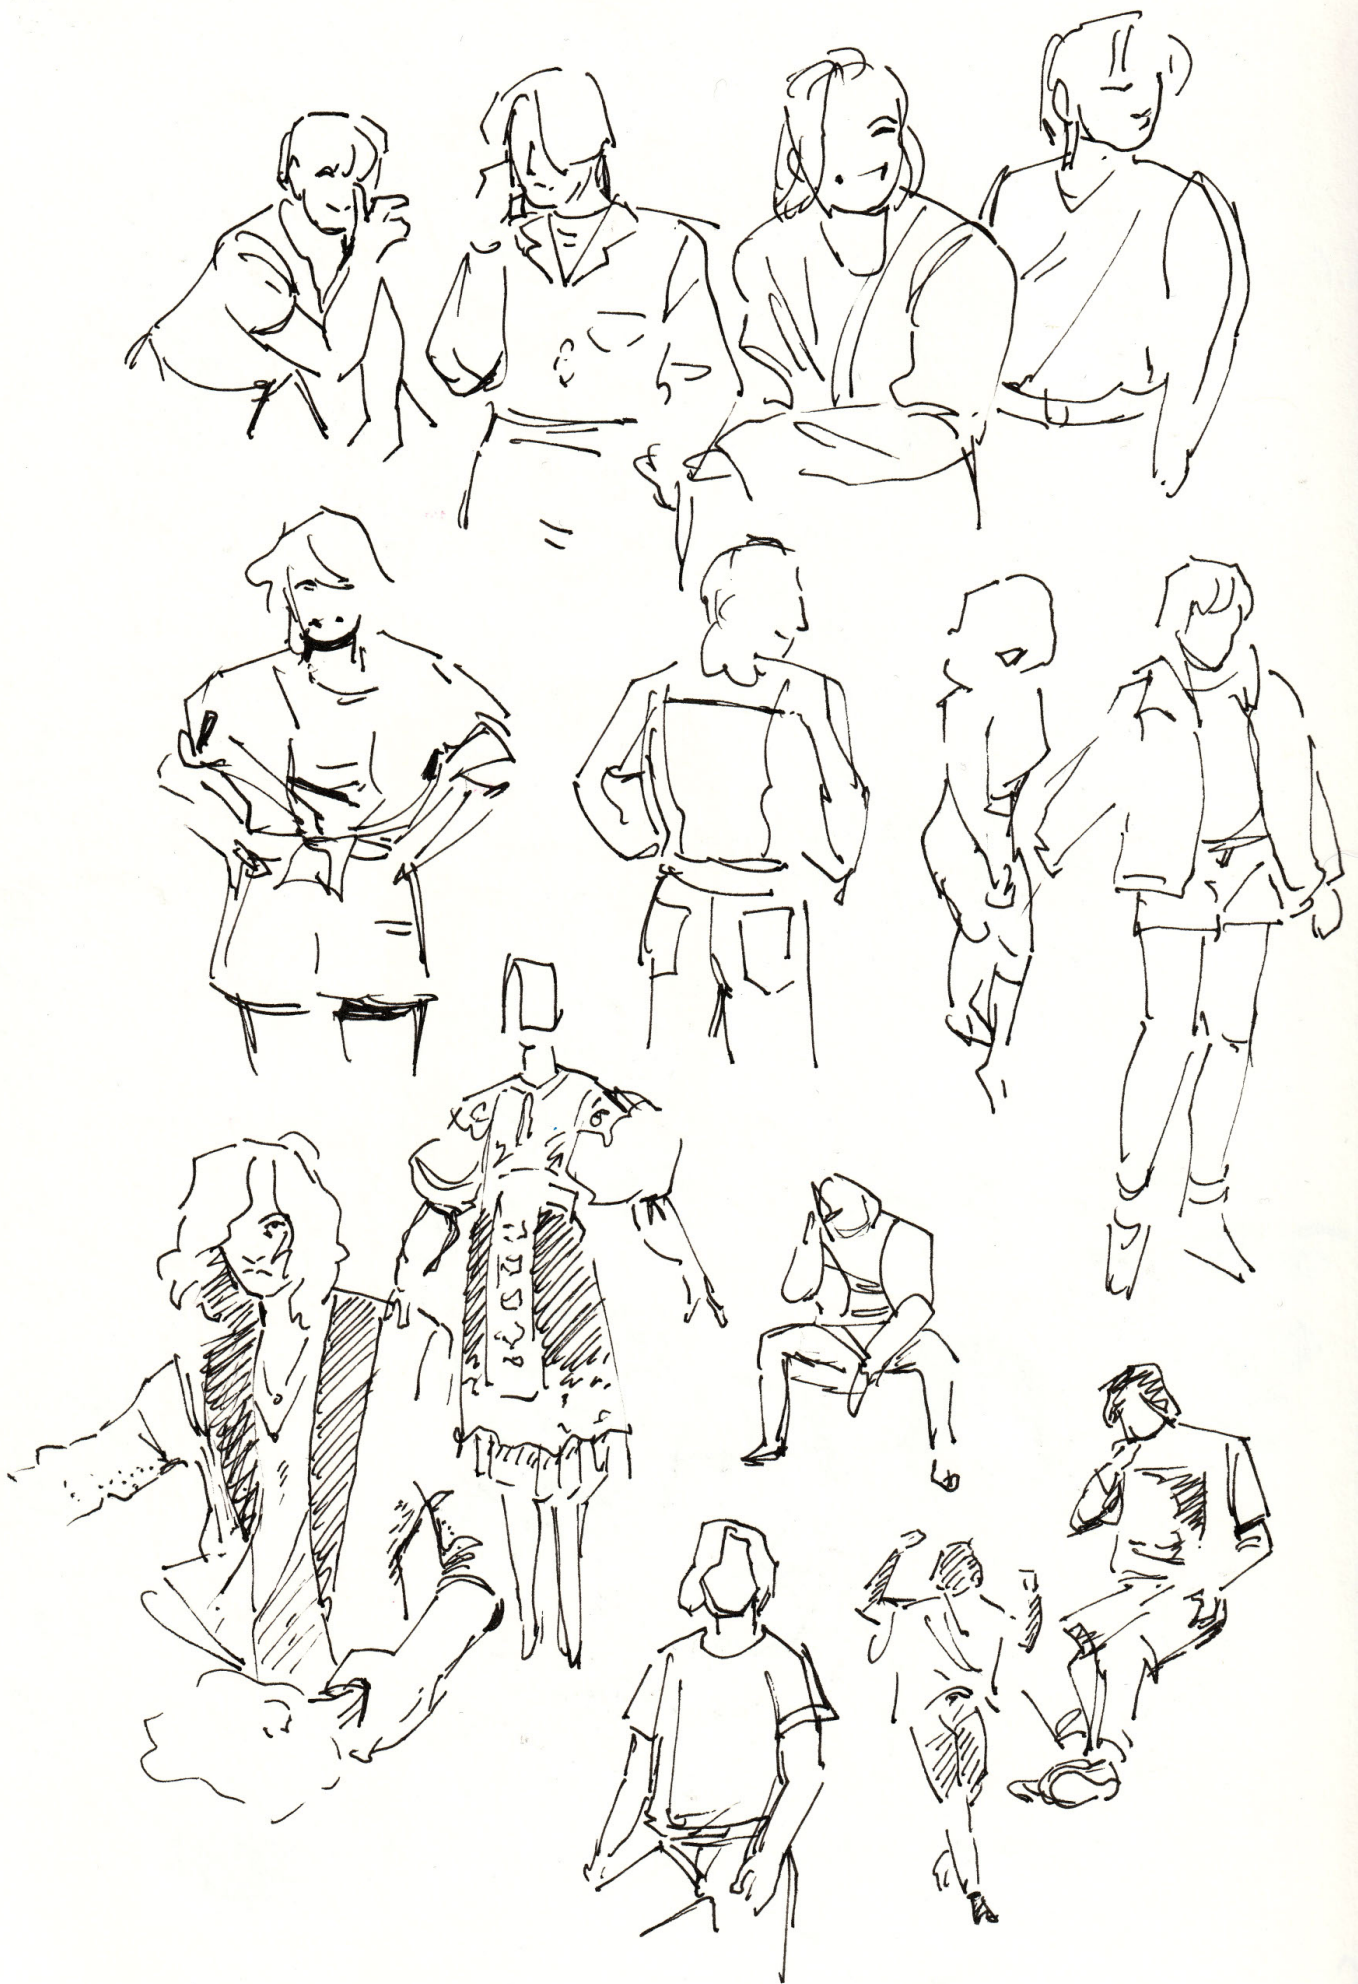

When me + sam are eating out or something I get him to give me a character - draw! I try from memory badly first-

Like this if I can doodle a photo of you from your media tab 🍷 I'll make a thread of ones I draw & tag people. Absolutely zero guarantee they'll be a good likeness, or even good!

thanks for reading!

*last two years >:)
I always showed
the plan sketches
but I dunno if I shared the finals!*

I thought it would be cute to show other craft stuff I've made this year haha, I always forget!

hops wreath (now very brown)

josie!

overly ambitious blanket, I started out with acrylic and then realised I way prefer cotton yarn 7-7 coasters! I use these every day >:3

this is my latest project, a water bottle holder, mine is metal, so its cold to touch and also maes a dramatic 'donggg' noise when I knock it accidentally...

'regret'

*the bobbles look
real cute*

graphic design is my passion *i keep finding more things... tiny fairy pouches i hid

for niece + nephews*

*the tiny salt dough breads
i made on a whim came in handy lol*
