CAM WISH

A short story by Dan Standing

Julie arched her back, spread her legs, and lifted her round ass up off the sheets of her bed. Her long curly blonde tresses were spread out around her, and as she raised her butt up her bulbous tits rolled off her ribs. One pair slipped atop her armpits, but they were all pouring around her chest.

“Mmm...” Julie moaned as the vibrator hummed in her left pussy. She made sure the webcam could see her dual drool caverns. She let a finger play with one of her shotglass sized nipples. They, and her saucer-sized areola, were far too large for even her enlarged tits. Each breast – including the new ones – was just short of being bigger than Julie's head.

But the young woman didn't mind that her four nipples commanded so much attention on her chest.

They felt so good, permanently thick and thrust out. Just a little brush here and there was enough for one of her tits to orgasm – and what an orgasm! Not quite as satisfying as when she a pussy going, but still a good time.

A week ago the fresh-faced cam gal would never have foreseen this result. She'd only been camming for a few days, and with little success. She blamed her boyish dimensions and short brunette haircut. She'd browse the other girls' feeds and see buxom caricatures bringing in the views and tips and fume at her shortcomings.

Then the question came into her nearly abandoned chat feed: wut wuld u wish 4?

Julie remembered laughing. Money, cars, mansions, many things ran through her head. But, being dressed down to her thong on a sex web cam, she decided to play up the question.

“Well, I'd wish for tits and a body twice as fuckable as anyone else on here!”

As the word Granted flashed onto the screen Julie's body shuddered.

She felt her hips stretch apart, and the warm flow of flesh as the fabric of her thong now ran between two needy and dripping pussies. Julie would later discover that both would always be horny, but she'd only be able to fuck one at a time – filling one would close the other. Each vibrator or finger that brought one to orgasm would be pushing against and further stimulating the other with every stroke.

Julie had braced herself as her breasts surged outwards like balloons – balloons filled with warm gelatin. She couldn't quite vocalize the pleasure as inch after inch of flesh grew from her chest – with a second set of fuck pillows growing in beneath. Julies nipples twitched and grew, and as the transforming woman grabbed at them she felt a new sensation – an orgasm not in her pussy and belly but centered entirely in one jiggling breast. It was enough to throw her onto her back, falling upon the golden locks growing from her head.

When it was all done Julie had almost panicked, but every time she moved she was pleased by her new form. Thighs squeezed wanting pussies, and her breasts bounced and rubbed against each other in the most delicious ways. She'd brought herself to six orgasms from various sources in as many minutes.

All while the camera was on.

And her viewership was growing.

In one afternoon Julie knew she could make all she needed right on that bed.

“Oh fuck...oh fuck...” Julie cried out as she rubbed her left clitty with her fingertips. The orgasm was building and building, and she grabbed one of her nipples with her other hand in hopes of getting two orgasms going. She timed it well and Julie screamed bliss at her ceiling as her left pussy spurted its rewards, and her lower right tit flushed with pleasure.

Julie only had a moment of satisfaction before she felt her right pussy’s demands overwhelm her. With haggard pants the blonde pulled the dripping vibrator from one pussy, and her viewers saw the other open with a curtain of juices. She slipped the warm shaft inside and bit her lips as she felt her freshly-orgasmed slit begin humming to life again.

Julie let her legs slip out and her body fell to the bed. Despite the weight of her four titties she took a few deep breaths. And then she started to tease her upper right and lower left nipples as her needy pussy vibrated in peace.

It was a good time.

And the tips indicated that was not just true for Julie.
